Business Summary

Here is a opportunity of a lifetime. This is a new company, formed out of the assets of an old line manufacturer. There are only two manufacturers of this formed concrete product in the entire country. The formed concrete pieces are used in soil retention for highways, bridges, commercial and residential landscaping. The potential is huge and there is no limit to the growth with the proper marketing to state and municipal highway departments, landscape architects, highway engineers, concrete and general contractors. The selling price include 3 tractor trailers loaded with custom forms. The assets alone are worth the asking price. If you feel you are qualified to operate this wonderful business, and you have the financial ability, call us right now!
